Exporting Designs from SaberEXP to SaberRD

SaberEXP's high abstraction models and PWL solver provide accuracy and convergence for small to medium complex designs. These designs can be exported into the Saber integrated environment for extremely accurate physical modeling and simulation. Design export from SaberEXP into SaberRD is performed through automatic model mapping. SaberRD allows users to further evolve their designs by adding more device specific details for final validation, reliability analysis, and functional safety verification.

S